GOLDEN WORKING ARTIST WORKSHOPS

(3 Workshops and 1 Lecture)

Required Pre-registration by May 7th

Instructor: Corrine Loomis Dietz, Golden Working Artist

MONOTYPE WITHOUT A PRESS

Start date: Friday, May 16th

Time: 10:00am-3:00pm

Explore the painterly print with the new Golden OPEN paint, ideal for monotype. It stays wet 10 times longer than regular acrylics, offering plenty of time to work the image. This is a fun and exciting way to generate works on paper with a richness and diversity unlike any other method. You'll explore additive and subtractive techniques. The prints will be hand-rubbed and pulled from Plexi-plates. Discover strokes and textures that are unlike anything you can do with a brush as you combine painting and printmaking techniques that result in one-of-a-kind images. Archival and environmentally friendly with the ease of water cleanup, this workshop welcomes both the inexperienced and advanced artist.

Minimum number of students: 6

ACRYLIC INNOVATIONS- FREE LECTURE THE GOLDEN ACRYLIC LECTURE-DEMO

Start date: Friday, May 16th

Time: 6:00-8:00pm

A fun, fast-paced and informative lecture about acrylics, guiding you through the basics while opening up new possibilities!. Gain knowledge about pigments to facilitate clean color mixing and amazing glazes. Corrine will demonstrate the unique properties of acrylic paints to employ techniques from washes to thick impasto! Discover the many gels and mediums and how they can change the texture, saturation and intensity of your work.

GOLDEN's developments in technology are changing the options for artists from the "Ground" up! The new High Flow Acrylics are intense, lightfast pigments formulated for clog free airbrushing, pen & ink, refillable markers and flowing effortlessly from a brush. This new innovation allows the artist to develop fine detail, sign artwork, develop lightfast illustration or wet into wet washes and stains!

OPEN Acrylics are a new line of paint which remains wet dramatically longer than traditional acrylics. Their relaxed working properties allow for easy blending, shading and glazing; time to think, time to paint, time to adjust. OPEN is archival, environmentally friendly and cleans up with soap and water.

You will also see examples of the innovative NEW Digital Grounds. These new receptive coatings provide both control and freedom to print lightfast imagery onto paper, canvas, fabric, metal foils, acrylic surfaces and more using your inkjet printer! Free literature, hand painted color charts and samples to those who pre-registered!

Minimum number of guests: 15 Must pre-register.

ACRYLIC FOUNDATIONS & TECHNIQUES

Start date: Saturday, May 17th

Time: 10:00am-4:00pm

This intense, 5-hour workshop is geared toward making sense of the technical aspects of acrylics and finding your groove. Learn tips to control the brush, palette, color mixing and drying times. We will mix polymers (mediums and gels) with a triad of Fluid Acrylics, to develop an understanding of Modern color mixing. In a series of exercise we will discover the beautiful versatility of fluids as we pursue layers of washes and glazes. In the second session of the workshop we use Heavy Body Acrylic to extend the color with gels to develop textures and altar luminosity. With this thicker viscosity of paint we will explore the mineral (inorganic pigments) to examine opacity, color mixing and impasto techniques. Expect loads of information, money saving tips and new reference for your work. I recommend this hands-on event for any artists, needing a refresher of a full jump start into acrylic. All paint medium and gels will be supplied by Golden Artists Colors, creating a great opportunity to try it all and find your personal favorites.

Minimum number of students: 6

AMAZING GLAZING AND BLENDING

Start date: Sunday, May 18th

Time: 10:00am-4:00pm

Learn how to develop your painting skills and make color sing in a whole new way! This workshop will introduce you to materials and methods to achieve control. OPEN paint stays wet on your palette for days and handles beautifully for slower, wet into wet applications and blending. You will learn to discern the pigments that are ideal for transparent glazing and those which offer rich opacity. Merging OPEN with traditional acrylics, mediums and gels speed the drying time and develop textures. We will engage in several exercises so students come away with a solid working knowledge of these paints. Great for people wanting to switch from oils, to get away from the solvents yet retain the slow dry time of oils. OPEN is an archival, water based acrylic! All Paint, Mediums, & Gels, are supplied by GOLDEN Artist Colors. The innovation of OPEN Acrylics dramatically expands the working options. Minimum 6 Students

Class size: Limited to 12-14 artists Minimum Class: 8-10

Class Description: When economic times are tough, when emotions are unstable, when spirits are sinking and trust is at a record low, strong relationships will endure. As artists, you have the distinct advantage of being able to build emotional resonance and connection through personal interaction and through the message of your artwork.

In this two-day workshop, you will learn:

- The current social trends and how they affect your art business.
- Why relationships are essential to art sales.
- How to add relationships to your marketing plan.
- How to identify, attract and maintain those relationships.
- The most effective use of social media in building relationships.
- The importance of content in your written and spoken words : how to communicate your artistic vision, with the words that bring connection, passion, and purchase.
- You will have the opportunity to tweak your artist’s biographies and statements, develop the stories that best communicate your vision and technique, and practice presenting those stories to other artists.

This program is brought to with the support of Steven and Mickey Edwards and the Baker County Cultural Coalition

MARTY RUDOLPH, INSTRUCTOR

Marty Rudolph brings over 30 years of marketing experience to artists and galleries through her coaching, consulting and gallery trainings. Active in the national art marketplace, Marty brings artists the current market trends in retail and wholesale art buying, as well as years of do-it-yourself marketing success strategies. Having taught more than 1,000 artists throughout the country, a grant from the Oregon Arts Commission Marty brought her art marketing workshops to 8 regional art centers. Prior to her retirement last June, Marty managed the art gallery at The Pines Wine tasting venue in Hood River. She currently resides in Bend and teaches at Central Oregon Community College.

MIND YOUR OWN "ART" BUSINESS

Date: Thursday, July 3rd or Saturday, July 5th (Artists contact Crossroads with a preference — one date will be selected)

Time: Thursday 5:00-8:00pm or Saturday 9:00am-Noon

Instructor: Tracy Miller, Tracy Miller Fine Art of Colorado Springs, CO

Location: Crossroads Upstairs Studios

Cost: $50 member / $75 non-member

Minimum Class: 8 – Attendees need to have some professional experience showing or selling your art.

Bring a notepad and pen for notes.

Class Description: Grow Your Art as a business. In this course, Tracy will share some of her secrets to success in the art business. You will learn how to use social media to advertise your art. How to approach and work with galleries, how to fund shows that your work will appeal to. How to brand yourself and your art. Networking and selling tips and much more. Time will be set aside for Q&A.

TRACY MILLER, INSTRUCTOR

Crossroads is proud to welcome Tracy Miller from Colorado Springs, Colorado as the Featured Artists for July. Yes First Friday is on the 4th of July so mark your calendars. Tracy's gallery is in the resort town of Manitou Springs, CO and her website is tracymillerfineart.com and you can check her work out on Facebook. Crossroads is excited to welcome an artist to work with our local artists who has made a career of being a working artist, gallery owner and has a remarkable success rate of having her work seen by a wider audience. Tracy is currently nominated for an Athena Award by the Southern Colorado Women's Chamber of Commerce recognizing women business owners who are also mentors and service driven in their communities.

Tracy Miller was obsessed from a young age with art, horses—and the wide open spaces of the West. She earned her Bachelors degree in Art from Metropolitan State College in Denver, Colorado. Tracy loves to drive the back roads of Colorado and National Parks of the West to seek inspiration for her works. She resides in Colorado Springs, Colorado where she lives with an awe-inspiring view of Pikes Peak, and in an urban interface with wild animals to observe. She is married to Roger Miller and has two children, Sean and Nicole.

"My Contemporary Western Expressionist paintings are based on my love of the West. My Dad exposed me to the great outdoors, instilling a love of the land and wide open skies. My Mom influenced my love of art and culture."

I grew up riding horses, and animals in nature are my passion. My paintings are done in bold brushstrokes and highly charged colors. My work starts as pure abstract expressionism, integrating emotion and movement through color and shape. The animal reveals itself to me in the process of applying paint. I then refine the details that make the animal immediately recognizable, capturing it's essence and spirit.

SHARLENE MILES, INSTRUCTOR

Sharlene fell in love with wheel throwing in Junior High and has continued to work on her pottery throughout high school and college. Sharlene wants to share her years of experience and is being mentored by Master Potter's Mary Sue Rightmire and Terri Axness to grow as a teacher and a potter. We are thrilled to welcome Sharlene to Crossroads.
