

ORGANIC

Form & Matter

Call to Artists – April 2013

We would like to invite artists to join us for our annual April open regional show titled “ORGANIC form & matter.” We encourage you to explore the word organic, to contemplate what constitutes organic form and matter.

Take a close up view of texture, pattern, scale, metamorphosis, growth, change and variation to rediscover our everyday world. What new discovery can you make, what new world can you explore that you pass by every day? Paring everything back to the basic element of that which is organic in form or matter, we encourage you to find how the word organic inspires you. We hope this exploration takes you on a new path, if only temporarily, to view your world with a fresh new perspective.
